

A floor plan of a room labeled "Huntington 105". The room is roughly rectangular with a smaller rectangular extension on the left side. The top wall features a "projector board" and a "black board". A "teaching station" is marked with a black square in the upper right area. The room is bounded by a grey line representing the walls. Three red curved lines are drawn: one in the top-left corner, one on the left wall, and one in the bottom-right corner. There are also small square symbols at the top and bottom center of the main room's walls.

projector board
black board

teaching
station

Huntington 105