Syracuse University provides active faculty, staff, and students access to Listserv. Listserv provides management of mailing lists for groups of users including email newsletters, announcement lists, discussion groups and email communities.

Every user of Syracuse University Listserv should be aware of the Listserv Policies as well as the Syracuse University email policy.

Need a password? If you are logging in for the first time or have forgotten your Listserv password simply follow the instructions on the Listserv password page. Access to your email address is required. More information about your Syracuse email address can be found on the Email home page.
