

Safe Computing

Below you will find general articles related to safe computing including information about antivirus and keeping your computer safe.

ITS Information Security (Secure'cUse)

Information Technology Services Information Security has additional information regarding safe computing including file sharing, security 101 tutorials, and technical guidance.

Safe Computing Tips for Remote Users

As Syracuse University moves more towards a remote workforce in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, there is a rising risk to the information of our students, faculty, and staff. Be aware of our Safe Computing Tips for Remote Users provided by the Information Security Team.

Know Our Policies

All users on campus should be aware of our File Sharing policies, and other technology policies including the Information Technology Acceptable User Policy. For all IT policies, head over to the Information Technologies Policies home page.

Additional Support Articles

- Antivirus Software and Malware Protection
- Email Address Protection
- Phishing and You
- Smart TVs and Your Privacy
- Safe Computing Tips for Remote Users

ITS Information Security Articles

- File Sharing at Syracuse University
- Securecuse Home
- Security 101
- Security Standards/Guidelines/Policies
- Services
- Technical Guidance